

EDITORIAL NOTE

The Harmonius Editorial Board is proud to present the latest issue of Harmonius – Journal of Legal and Social Studies in South East Europe 2021. This journal aims at fostering and promoting harmonization of law in the SEE region with EU law and with general principles of international law, whilst providing a forum for the exchange of ideas and scholarly work of young scholars from the region and beyond. In accordance with the mission of the journal, as well as the main objectives of the Harmonius association, this issue of the journal features fifteen articles and two contributions on important topics, all of which were presented at an international conference – the XVI Harmonius School of Law „If Slow Justice is a ‘Curse’, is E-Justice a ‘Blessing’? / Ako je spora pravda ‘prokletstvo’, da li je e-pravda ‘blagoslov’?“ with participation of professors, judges and young scholars from Bosnia and Herzegovina, Croatia, Macedonia and Serbia. The XVI Harmonius School of Law Conference was organized by the Harmonius Association in cooperation with the Judicial Academy and was held online on November 26th, 2021. The Journal also contains two in memoriam notes on our late dedicated contributors to the Journal and the Conference whose participation at our future events will be missed.

Members of the Editorial Board are particularly grateful to distinguished professors and scholars who, despite their busy schedules, accepted to review the articles submitted for this issue. In addition to that, the Editorial Board wishes to thank all the contributors without whom the publication of this issue would not have been possible. We believe that the contributions to this issue will be of ample interest to the wide-ranging public in South East Europe. We also hope that this issue will enhance interest in publishing in this journal in the future, and that it will continue to attract authors from numerous jurisdictions, thus leading to the full accomplishment of our mission.
